N. B. No Money is required till the books are delivered.

ADVERTISEMENT.

IN selecting the articles, and in composing the designs for this work, the Artist is anxious to exhibit principally such as are suitable to elegant and polite life, and for adorning the most extensive mansions: he flatters himself the work will display a variety of the newest fashions, combined with classic taste, for the most useful and most superb articles of modern decorative furniture, studied from the best antique examples in the Egyptian, Etruscan, Greek, and Roman styles; and he presumes it will be found particularly useful to Noblemen and Gentlemen who are curious in the decoration of their houses; also to Cabinet-makers, Upholders, Paper-hangers, &c. who may have the arranging, furnishing, and fitting-up of houses committed to their care.

N° 15, Prince's Street,
Cavendish Square, 1805.

Printed by S. GOSNELL, Little Queen Street, Holborn.
